The Plains of Abraham Québec City treats itself to an Odyssey

Québec City, January 6, 2008 – Beginning in January, the National Battlefields Commission invites the public to become tourists in their own city. Every Saturday and Sunday of January and of February, the residents of Québec City and its surroundings will have the chance to visit, free of charge, the multimedia exhibition Odyssey: a journey through history on the Plains of Abraham, by showing proof of residency.

The Plains of Abraham: a site unique in North America, the cradle of Canadian history, a park at the centre of the lives of citizens. Head for the Odyssey multimedia exhibition and relive the rich, colourful past of this historic city park. A 400-year captivating virtual journey alongside the great characters who helped shape our history, from the birth of New France to the creation of the park through the famous Battle of the Plains of Abraham. Listen to the tales of the Plains as you never heard them before.

Throughout 2009, the National Battlefields Commission will mark the 250th anniversary of the Québec City battles, that of the Plains of Abraham in 1759, and of Sainte-Foy in 1760, by offering all kinds of activities. Please refer to the detailed program at www.theplainsofabraham.ca
